SINGAPORE, Jan. 20.—Japanese troops are still maintaining heavy pressure along the entire western Malayan front with the main thrust along the coastal belt from the Murau river to the Batu Pahat area, approximately 55 miles north of Singapore, an official communiqué revealed today.

There was no indication that Japanese land forces were operating in the Batu Pahat area and every possibility that pressure in this district may be coming only from enemy planes. Batu Pahat also is known as Bandar Pengangar and is the most important coastal point between Singapore and the Muar river mouth.

On the east coast there was enemy patrol activity in the Endau area, the communiqué added.

Endau is just inside the border of the Sultanate of Johore.

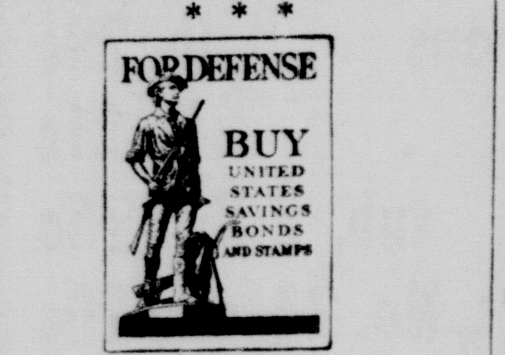

Enemy planes bombed and machine-gunned the Customs building.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Yesterday would have been a day that would have been difficult to secure any benefit from any daylight savings plan. At four o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard time, it was so dark on streets that autos were burning headlights.

Over at Grove City reports are made that some of the new stamps required on autos by the federal government, have already been stolen. They were loosely attached to the windshield on autos it appears.

Birds that adopted the open air apartments on the public square last fall apparently moved in for the duration of the winter. At least about the usual flock seemed to be settling down for the evening, in the trees late Monday afternoon.

Forty or fifty pigeons were noted roosting along the edge of a downtown block at one time yesterday. The flock arrived en masse and proceeded to rest along the roof of the building.

U. S. Army Bombers Strike At Japan In Far East War Zone

By JOHN HENRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—While the United States apparently struck back at Axis aggression along the nation's eastern shore line, Washington military observers today are cheered by new successes in the Orient.

As U. S. naval forces patrolled along the eastern seaboard, authorities noted that the increasing might of America's air arm definitely has expanded this country's theater of war. U. S. army bombers struck at Japan at points in Malaya and the Indies, thus widening the scale of hostilities in the Far East.

Jap Offensive Bugged Down

The Nipponese offensive in the Philippines, meanwhile, showed signs of being bogged before Gen. Douglas MacArthur's prepared positions in Batavia.

Experts were led to believe by the navy department's bare announcement that a fourth vessel of the United States had been attacked within the past week that the intensity of patrols has been increased to ensnare and destroy the enemy raiders.

The war department, meanwhile, disclosed that American bombers (Continued On Page Two)

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Jan. 20.—The Netherlands East Indies high command announced today that six Japanese bombers yesterday raided the town of Sabang on Celebes Island, killing two persons, wounding 40 and causing slight damage.

Sabang is situated on the West Coast of the Minahassa Peninsula on Celebes Island. The raid lasted about 40 minutes.

Main objectives of the raiders were the town and harbor.

Attack Jap-Held Airdrome

Dutch naval planes yesterday twice attacked the Jap-held airdrome at Kuching, capital of Sarawak, starting fires and damaging the field, the Dutch war communiqué said.

It added that a lone bomber dropped a few bombs in the Bay of Seboiga, a small town on the west coast of northern Sumatra, and also machine-gunned the Customs building.

Pearl Harbor Probers Back

By GEORGE DURNON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Justice Owen J. Roberts and the special Pearl Harbor board of inquiry has returned to Washington and is now laboring on the final report that will establish the circumstances of the December 7 holocaust at Hawaii.

The board, appointed by President Roosevelt to make a first-hand investigation after Navy Secretary Frank Knox reported U. S. forces at Pearl Harbor were "not on the alert," flew quietly back to Washington last week. Its membership since has been in seclusion drafting a report which may have widespread repercussions in military and naval circles.

Justice Roberts said work on the report was under way but he was unable to say when it would be completed and in the hands of the President.

Rabaul Attacked By Jap Bombers

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 20.—A new Japanese air attack on Rabaul, on the Island of New Britain in the Bismarck Archipelago, was announced officially in Melbourne.

A communiqué said Nipponese bombers and fighters, presumably operating from an aircraft carrier, launched a full-scale attack on Rabaul.

The attack was made at mid-day by waves of planes which bombed the airdrome installations, it was stated.

Military objectives were declared to have been damaged, but no details were available.

Churchill Is Now Confident

Expresses "Growing Confidence" In Outcome Of War—Asks Confidence Vote

MAKES APPEARANCE IN COMMONS TODAY

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill made his first appearance before the house of commons since his visit to the new world today, expressed "growing confidence" in the outcome of the war and unhesitatingly invited a vote of confidence on his military and domestic policies.

Tumultuously cheered as he took his accustomed place in the house for the first time in weeks, the prime minister made only a brief statement.

Full Debate Soon

His main object was to promise the uneasy house that within a very short time it would have an opportunity for a full debate on all outstanding questions, such as alleged failure of the "scorched earth" policy in Malaya and other Far Eastern matters.

But members piled him with questions incessantly. The speaker of the house turned away most of them. But finally Frederick Pethick-Lawrence, Laborite, demanded a promise (Continued On Page Two)

The first of these lessons will appear tomorrow and thereafter each day until the series is completed. Everyone taking first aid is asked to clip these articles and save them for reference in the first aid classes.

MOSCOW, Jan. 20.—(By Official Russian Radio)—Three entire Nazi divisions—about 45,000 men—were reported "smashed" today when Soviet forces unleashed a terrific assault on the front northwest of Moscow.

As a result, the situation at the inter-American conference brought about by Argentina's stand seemed destined for early clarification.

It was reported that Chilean officials had served a virtual ultimatum on Argentina to join in approval of a resolution severing relations under pain of being left alone in a hemisphere dedicated otherwise to axis aggression.

War Relief Fund Is Nearing Goal

Chairman Duff Confident Quota Will Soon Be Attained In Current Drive

With each day's report more encouraging than that of the day previous, Chairman Walter W. Duff of the Lawrence County Red Cross War Relief Fund is confident that the goal will soon be attained.

Ellwood City is already over the top and reports from various other sections of the county indicate that their goal will also be reached in a short time.

Workers in the city are beginning to wind up their campaigns and their reports are most encouraging. Chairman Duff is urging workers to complete their canvass as quickly as possible so that the campaign can be terminated and the results sent to national headquarters.

The quota for the city of New Castle is $27,000, of which all but approximately $10,000 has been raised. Ellwood City has exceeded its $7,000 quota and the county quota of $6,000 should be easily reached.

One of the contributions received Monday was from St. Elias Syrian Orthodox church, where Tony George and Lyle Farrah, who were chairmen, reported $100 raised among members of the congregation.

Claim Japanese To Attack Russians

Second Front Is 'Promised'

London Paper Asserts Japs To Aid Nazis By Drive On Russia

SECRET AGREEMENT BY AXIS IS CLAIM

BULLETIN
(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 20.—The London Daily Telegraph reported from Stockholm today that Japan has secretly promised to open up a "second front" against the Russians this coming spring.

The newspaper said the Japanese agreement was reported to be a secret clause in the new axis military pact embracing Germany, Italy and Japan.

According to the message, Japan is pledged to open up the new front to coincide with the German spring offensive in the east.

Directed Against Russia
At Chungking, the Chinese army newspaper Sao Tangpao commented the new axis military pact is directed mainly against Russia.

The publication expressed belief Japan has promised hegemony in Asia and the southwest Pacific area by Germany as a means of "enriching" the Japs to attack Siberia.

Japan soon will be in a position to carry out such an attack, the paper added, in view of the Japanese successes in the Pacific area.

Previously, Chile had stood with Argentina in being the principal lagards in the move for open rupture of relations.

U. S. Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, leader of the United States delegation at this conference of 21 American republics, had earlier proposed such a step as a means of wiping out possible fifth column activity in this hemisphere.

MOSCOW REPORTS THREE DIVISIONS OF GERMANS SMASHED

ported continuing and Red army troops were said to have cut off an important highway leading to Warsaw in Poland.

In the past two days on this sector, it was stated, Russian forces have captured 142 settlements.

Russian forces were reported advancing on three other main fronts, the Mzhaisk sector of the central front, the Kharkov area of the Donetz basin and in the Crimea.

Latest advices said the Soviets were attacking the great industrial city of Harkov from both north and south and the Italian forces in the Don Basin region could not withstand the furious Soviet assaults.

Italians Lose

One Italian brigade in that sector was declared to have lost all its tanks.

In the Crimea the entire Kerch Peninsula was stated to have been swept free of Axis forces which were falling back toward Simeferopol, while Nazi pressure on the Sevastopol naval base decreased.

The great central front offensive proceeded with savage fighting that was expected to result in Red army recapture of Mzhaisk in the near future. Savage street fighting was still reported raging in the flaming town, which the Nazis in desperation put to the torch when the Soviet forces broke in.

In its noon communique, the Russian high command said Soviet forces "continued active operations throughout the night."

Hurl Nazis Back
In its midnight communique, the Red army announced recapture of Vereya and Kondrovo in the continuing drive that hurled the Nazis further back on the central front with added heavy losses in men and material.

Vereya is 13 miles southeast of Mzhaisk, the last Nazi stronghold at the western approaches to Moscow. Kondrovo lies near Smolensk, far to the west, which now is gravely threatened by the Russian forces.

Announcing that "our troops continued to throw back the Germans toward the west," the Soviet midnight war bulletin added that "the enemy is suffering big losses."

(A British radio broadcast heard by NBC quoted unofficial reports to the effect that an estimated 100,000 Germans already are evacuating Mzhaisk "under heavy Russian pressure and in fear of complete encirclement.")

Reports from Stockholm to London said that only a mechanized Nazi rearguard is now holding flaming Mzhaisk and covering evacuation of the "cream of the Nazi army," which was reported racing towards Vyazma, 60 miles to the west, and facing destruction unless it can reach the Vyazma Gap before the Soviets close in.

chinese-gunned Mersing yesterday with little result.

Singapore Bombed
Japanese bombers again raided Singapore this morning, dropping their bombs at random. Some military damage was reported, but most of the bombs fell in residential areas.

Malayan anti-aircraft defenses thus far have destroyed 41 enemy bombers, with another 16 probably destroyed, it was stated.

Earlier, it was announced that fresh Australian troops in western Malaya were holding firm against Japanese assaults.

The latest Jap advances were scored despite heavy casualties when British Indian troops were forced to retire under heavy pressure.

Latest front line dispatches, however, told of gradually stiffening British resistance with the aid of Australian reinforcements who administered two sharp defeats on the attacking Japanese.

(Editor's Note: Major General Henry Gordon Bennett, commander of Australian forces in Malaya, sent a communique to Australian Army Minister Francis M. Forde stating:

Attack Beaten Back
"Australian imperial force units have been sent to stabilize the position in the Muar river area, where Indian troops have been forced to give ground under enemy pressure.

"Almost immediately after the Australians had taken up their positions the enemy launched a vigorous attack with tanks which was beaten off by our troops.

"Again this morning the enemy attacked and the attack again was defeated by our troops. The Australians are holding their ground everywhere."

Nevertheless, the Japanese kept ploughing in, heedless of their losses, in a sustained attempt to exploit their numerical superiority over the British.

Yesterday's British communique acknowledged further withdrawals as a result of Japanese infiltrations but told of increasingly powerful aerial counter-blows against Japanese land transport columns and barges in the Muar river area.

U. S. ARMY BOMBERS STRIKE AT JAPAN IN FAR EAST WAR ZONE

have carried the conflict to the Japanese. In a communique containing information that had been delayed, the war report described attacks upon the Japanese-held Sungen Patani airfield and upon a Nipponese flying field at Manado in the Celebes Islands.

U. S. Airpower Seen
These far-flung assaults encouraged observers to think that American airpower may ultimately decide the issue in the Orient.

The bombing of the Sungen Patani air field, on the Malayan Peninsula about 250 miles northwest of Singapore and near Georgetown, occurred Jan. 15. Three large fires were started among grounded Japanese aircraft and the hangar area. All of the American planes returned safely to their base, which was undisturbed.

In the attack on the Japanese in the Indies, executed by five bombers Jan. 17, the American fliers encountered a formation of Japanese interceptor ships. Nine of the Japanese shot down, the war department said. Two of the American airplanes were reported missing, however, and a third was damaged, with four members of the crew wounded.

Aviation authorities applauded this performance, pointing out that only superior flying and fighting skill would have enabled five heavy bombing planes to down nine speedier interceptor ships.

Would Be Disastrous
These observers then drew the conclusion from these sky fights that more American airpower in the Far East probably would be disastrous for the Nipponese cause. They cautioned, however, against the idea that the United States can shove sufficient fighting airplanes to the Far East immediately.

These raids on Jap points in Malaya and the Indies were the most extensive forays yet made by American forces in behalf of the A B C D powers.

At Bataan, the pressure point in the fight for the Philippines, MacArthur's staunch defense lines held firmly against sporadic ground attacks.

Although a renewal of Japan's grand offensive to slice through the right flank of the defenders and take the shore highway leading to the tip of Bataan Peninsula was expected momentarily, experts said that the invaders have shown all signs of suffering a devastating blow when they were repulsed in their first major thrust at this objective.

Little Philippine Fighting
The Japanese, according to tacticians, probably would have staged a quick follow-up to their unsuccessful assault had they been in condition to launch another drive.

The war department said that ground fighting was of a desultory nature, however, and that enemy activity was confined to reconnaissance. Observers said these facts were ample indication that the Japanese field commanders were forced to reorganize their lines.

MacArthur, meanwhile, offered new evidence that Japan is a hand-in-glove partner in the Axis scheme of things. He reported that the Nipponese military regime in occupied areas of the Philippines has dispossessed Filipinos of transportation facilities and other equipment.

He was a son of James P. and Lorene Brown, of the death of his wife, Lottie Brown, five years ago, he had been residing with his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown, on the farm.

U. S. BOMBERS SUCCESSFUL IN LATEST ATTACK by six bombing planes, and the enemy ships were struck approximately 100 miles off the island.

"Several direct hits were scored," the war department communique stated.

In describing the renewed assault on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's lines in Bataan, the announcement revealed that the attack is supported by aircraft but that three enemy planes have been shot down within the last 24 hours.

The attack apparently was centered against the middle of Gen. MacArthur's line of prepared positions.

Sharp fighting also is in progress between Philippine troops and a Japanese force about 35 miles north of Davao on the island of Mindanao, the war department disclosed.

Day's Communique
Text of the communique follows: "Philippine Theater: The enemy has renewed the attack on the American and Philippine troops on the Bataan Peninsula. A Japanese pressure is particularly heavy at the center of the line. The attack is supported by aircraft. Three enemy planes were shot down during the past 24 hours.

"Gen. MacArthur has received a report from Mindanao telling of sharp fighting now in progress between Philippine troops and a Japanese force about 35 miles north of Davao.

"Six American army bombers successfully attacked a Japanese cruiser and a large tanker 100 miles off Jolo. Several direct hits were scored, sinking the cruiser and leaving the tanker in flames.

"There is nothing to report from other areas."

The foray of U. S. planes in the vicinity of Jolo indicated that Japan has prepared to occupy the island, military experts said. The long range attack by the American planes was the second within as many days, and the base from which the operations have emanated remained a military secret.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Although there was no identification of the cruiser sunk, the blow was obviously a heavy one to the Japanese Navy. Because of the enemy's vastly overextended lines of communication in the Far East, cruisers are of tremendous importance, due to their long range as well as fighting ability.

Jap cruisers range from ten-year old first class ships such as the 8,850 ton Atago, Takao, Tokai and Mava and the way down to twenty-six year old 3,320-ton ships such as the Tatuta. The first-class cruisers, however, are among the world's best fighting ships, mounting 10 eight-inch guns, 12 anti-aircraft guns, eight machine-guns and eight torpedo tubes.

ters in the last seven days. Extent of American successes against the desperate Nazi invasion of American coastal waters was hidden behind official censorship.

While the Malay escaped destruction in a miraculous escape from an hour's bombardment, four other United States vessels were reported sunk in the battle by U-boats. The United States tanker, Coimbra, was destroyed off New York. Then the U. S. tanker, Allan Jackson, was torpedoed off the Carolina coast Sunday. Another Panamanian freighter, name undisclosed, was sunk in the north Atlantic with its survivors reaching a Canadian port.

Attacked Monday
The Malay, under charter to the Gulf Oil Company, was attacked early Monday off the Carolina shore. The 29 survivors told a harrowing tale of standing up under the explosion of shells from the U-boat, which attacked without warning.

They reported that the U-boat commander, apparently despairing of sinking the tanker with shellfire, finally discharged a torpedo at the American vessel, which struck it on the starboard side. And still the ship did not sink—but with the U-boat quitting its attack, finally limped into port and safety.

With Second Coast Guard's only fatality, Captain John M. Dodge, 69, of Baltimore, reported four crewmen missing and three others injured.

Swedish Ship Offers Aid
After the submarine disappeared, an unidentified Swedish freighter, drew up alongside the Malay and offered the tanker assistance. The Swedish freighter lowered a lifeboat and searched the surrounding waters for the missing Malay crewmen. Some surviving crewmen believed they might have been blown overboard by exploding shells while trying to lower the destroyed lifeboat. After an exhaustive but unsuccessful search, the freighter finally went on its way.

Second Mate William A. Greene, 30, of New London, Conn., who was on board when the attack started, was the only crew member to see the torpedo before it struck the tanker. It was his estimate that the torpedo was fired from 1,500 yards distance.

The tanker left Philadelphia January 17, for Port Arthur, Texas, and was running under dim lights at the time of the attack. The torpedo went through the ship leaving a large gaping hole in the starboard.

Thirteen survivors, from the Standard Oil tanker, Allan Jackson, meanwhile were being cared for in Norfolk, brought here after their vessel was torpedoed off the Carolina coast.

JAP BOMBERS MAKE ATTACK ON CELEBES

were injured, although the bombs missed their marks and slight damage was done.

Details of two recent raids by Japanese bombers on the Netherlands Indies airdrome at Medan, in northern Sumatra, were announced today.

The two raids were conducted on the same day, the first by an estimated 21 bombers escorted by eight fighting planes, the second by three bombers. There was "no damage and only a few slight casualties among Indonesian workers," the communique stated.

At the same time, the Netherlands Indies government revealed it is taking strong measures to combat rumor-spreading among the population.

A woman at Samarang, it was disclosed, received a suspended jail sentence of one month for spreading a story that fifth columnists had poisoned the water of a tower at Pakalangan.

The first casualty list of the Netherlands Indies was issued yesterday. It contained the names of five killed, 13 missing and three wounded.

It was learned today that the N. E. I. budget for 1942 to be submitted to the people's council June 13, will provide for a sharp increase in taxes to meet a new war budget.

The story of two Roman Catholic priests who refused to leave Tarakan, Dutch Island, when it was invaded by the Japanese was revealed by the Surabaya (Java) newspaper Indische Courant.

Offered an opportunity to escape by N. E. I. army troops, the priests asserted they preferred to "fight and die with the soldiers, who need us in their last hours."

ise of debate "in view of the anxieties felt by the country regarding the position in the Far East."

This prompted Churchill to reply: "I naturally share the anxieties felt."

"But I also share the growing confidence which I think might also be justified in the eventual outcome of this struggle."

Churchill then announced that in a short time three days would be given over to debate.

To Make Statement
It will be inaugurated by an exhaustive statement from the prime minister himself on the general war situation and on his visits to the United States and Canada.

"If the debate discloses any situation seeming to involve a challenge," he said, "the government will invite a motion of confidence."

Churchill thereby made it clear he was willing to risk his job and his cabinet on a test to see whether

WOMAN'S CLUB HEAR
EDNA LEE BOOKER

"Will the United States give up her stake in the Far East and leave all to Japan's new order or will she stiffen her hand against the Japanese southward move of seizure?"

These two possibilities of action were thrust out by Edna Lee Booker, International News correspondent, before members of the Woman's club Monday afternoon in the Highland U. P. church.

The speaker, who was introduced by Mrs. Arthur B. Foster, still holds fresh in her memory the sudden departure from China last summer of American women and children at the warning of the United States government.

For 18 years Miss Booker has been covering her assignment to interview high type Chinese women and girls and outstanding figures among the generals and war lords.

Pursuit of her job as told in her recent book "News Is My Job" took her into the interior where she observed guerrilla warfare and the resistance of the people to the overbearing demands of their Japanese captors; 75 millions of refugees leaving the seacoast towns now occupied by the conqueror, fled last summer and on the road appeared like a long blue coated dragon without end.

Miss Booker brought hope with her description of the New Life movement inspired by General and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, fostered by Chinese youth, many educated in the U. S. in ideas of democracy, banking and in ways of modern industrial growth. The national boycott of Japanese goods was instigated by students and has spread through all parts of the nation to all classes. The woman movement patterned after American methods has been crushed in the war.

Miss Booker regards General Chiang and his Westley educated wife as the great liberators of China. They say "China will not give up her fight against Japan. She may give up a few cities but she must save the land for the young men and women."

American relief in China, Miss Booker believes, has served to commit her sale of munitions and has gathered China into the fold of the Allies against the Axis.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. John B. Elliott.

Music And Mystery Helps Delight Rotarians, Wives

Sweet melodies sung by a charming Pittsburgh miss, herself a song writer; selections by a talented accordionist, and the weird foretellings of "Princess Zara and the Professor" gave New Castle Rotarians and their wives one of their most entertaining evenings at The Castleton last night.

Marie Moss was the lovely vocalist who played and sang during the dinner hour, and during the program which followed. She sang upon request, several of her own numbers.

Out of the accordion of Jimmy Richards, one of the city's most gifted musicians, came sweet music to add to the program's enjoyment. It remained for the princesses and the professor, however, to strike the spark of mystery—both are Buffalo professionals who can amuse a audience as few can.

Chairman for the program was Rotarian Arthur R. Hazman, who loves to do program planning for his club. His chief aide was Richard E. Rentz, at present the head of Rotary's program committee. Ross D. Rosenberger was the song leader.

Because most thoughts—even at a party—can't stray too far from things military these days, Mr. Rentz asked several Rotarians who are heading up civilian defense here to make impromptu speeches about their jobs. Called upon were Walter W. Duff, head of the Red Cross war fund drive; Attorney William J. Caldwell, tire rationing "czar" here, and Edward D. Pritchard, who is organizing the county air raid defense forces.

The Ladies' Night was unanimously voted one of the best Rotary has ever held.

Later in the evening, a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses. A tureen dinner has been planned for February 16, at the church. Those on the committee are Mrs. Arthur Alexander, Ann Kennedy, Mrs. Russell Muder and Dorothy Blum.

COMMON SENSE CENSORSHIP

THOROUGH common sense characterizes the first public statement from the Office of Censorship, outlining a war-time code for newspapers, magazines and other publications. This is not surprising, as it is the work of Director Price and Assistant Director Sorrells, both of whom are newspapermen.

In substance, it requests that certain classes of information which might aid the enemy be withheld from publication except when officially given out. These fall into obvious categories, such as movements of troops, ships and planes, location of fortifications, information about production and weather, handling of photographs and maps, lists of casualties and so on. Newspapers had already put most of these into effect on a voluntary basis.

But no set of rules can be framed to cover all contingencies. Here the Office of Censorship makes a sound suggestion. Editors and staffs are urged, in doubt, to "follow the dictates of common sense." It is put thus: "In other words, a maximum of fulfillment will be attained if editors will ask themselves with respect to any given detail, 'Is this information I would like to have if I were the enemy?' and then act accordingly."

This is a good practical rule, but there will be cases where editorial judgments will differ. Where it is a case of revealing incompetence and correcting defects, editors must decide whether publication of certain information would not, in fact, be more useful to the nation and its war effort than it would be to the enemy. There is no trace of intention on the part of Director Price to lend himself to a use of censorship for "covering up" on official mistakes.

Readers should remember that a great deal of American war news, as with other countries, is now being withheld at the source. That is one of the disadvantages of all-out war which must be borne lest America's effort be weakened and the safety of its troops and ships be jeopardized.

DRIVING IT HOME TO THE JAPANESE

Not for nothing is Admiral "Tommy" Hart known throughout the Navy as a submarine man. Since Pearl Harbor and up to yesterday the score of the underwater craft of the Asiatic Fleet stood at five Japanese transports, three 10,000-ton cargo ships; one supply ship, one mine sweeper; one destroyer and a seaplane tender. Another transport has been reported as "probably sunk." With that exception the rest will never return to dear old Yokohama.

And to drive home to the Japanese that they asked for plenty and are going to get it, the Navy reported recently that a lone American sub, daringly skirting dangerous Japanese islands, had adventured to the mouth of Tokyo Bay and sunk three Japanese ships—apparently merchant vessels—on the very coast of the Faithless Kingdom.

All our services to date have sunk at least 34 Japanese war vessels, transports or cargo boats, putting the tonnage heavily in our favor. Yet it is not likely that any large percentage of our powerful, ultra-modern submarine fleet, with its superbly trained personnel, has yet been marshaled in Far Eastern waters.

From now on the Japs can expect fairly heavy concentration of our own, the British and Dutch submarine power under Admiral Hart's leadership to harass relentlessly their long sea lines of communication and to continue to carry the war into Japanese home waters.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

HITLER'S OIL PROBLEM

German messages to Libya ordering General Rommel's forces to practice the utmost economy in gasoline because of the vast drain upon Nazi resources in the Russian campaign are alleged to have been intercepted by the British. This report is not official and such messages might be clever German propaganda.

But it is a plausible conclusion that disruption of Hitler's time table by the Russians is causing Nazi leaders increasing worry on the score of petroleum.

Germany now seems to be up against what most experts have predicted—that if she were forced to consume great quantities of oil without acquiring new sources, her stocks would give out. Until the beginning of the campaign in Russia the Nazis were forced to fight comparatively limited engagements of a few weeks each. Even the Battle of France called for petroleum expenditure on a much smaller scale than has been the case in Russia. And Hitler then had stocks hoarded over a period of years.

After France, Hitler acquired the Rumanian fields as a supplementary source. He expected to wade through Russia and seize the supplies of the Caucasus as well as those in the Middle East controlled by Britain. But he has expended vast stores of petroleum without getting replenishments.

Now that he no longer has hope of plundering Russian oil resources, Hitler can get oil only by conquering the Mediterranean area. That would entail another major campaign at a time when he is fighting a losing war in Russia. Assuming that he still has the machines and the manpower, can Hitler command the oil for two large-scale campaigns involving vast distances?

It isn't likely, in view of the mounting opposition which will confront him whichever way he turns. And if Hitler essays another invasion and fails while his retreat in Russia continues, Germany will be open for invasion.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH CHILDREN SELF-CONTROL

For years I have in this column been pleading with parents to control their children, to train them in the early years in the alphabet of character and citizenship—respect for the rights of others and regard for authority. I have deplored the teaching of so many experts in child training and guidance that restraints should be thrown to the winds.

How can we have the best democracy without self-control in its citizens? How can the child learn self-control when he has always been allowed to do about as he pleases? You know that self-control begins with control from without. The infant and young child must be controlled by his parents until he gradually has learned more and more self-control. Long before the time he can see the reason why, he should learn there are certain things he must not have.

Correct Punishment
Any parent who controls a tot employs punishment in doing so. Curious that some parents suppose they are not employing physical punishment when they shriek at the youngster or assail him with piercing eyes. Even those who would never smack a tot will seize him vigorously, squeeze his arm or leg painfully, or give him a little jerk. Why not face reality and give a child a spanking as a means to begin control? Is not such application more humane than to look daggers at the little tyke or to lacerate him with a poisonous tongue? Don't we want to use our tongue and eyes for communication, affection, love? Why destroy these precious media for companionship and mutual enjoyments?

As soon as the tot has learned the meaning of NO he is ready to profit from other punishments, ready to be controlled without being spanked. The best substitute I know, up to twelve or fourteen, is to sit doing nothing where he can be seen for a definite period of time (about 10 minutes for the child of three, much longer for the child of ten).

Successfully controlled at three or four by parents who strive to be as one in a family of love and understanding, the growing child will need less and less control as he grows older and qualifies gradually for more self-control.

A selected list of books and pamphlets designed to help parents guide and discipline their children may be had without cost by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. Why do you say it is easier to be patient with other people's children than your own?

A. We parents naturally feel important and expect our child to act as if we were. When he repeats an error in reading, spelling, or arithmetic which we have corrected we suppose he counts us less important than we think we are, else he would have paid strict attention. We don't have to be courteous and patient with him. We must with our neighbor's child or we lose our social cast.

The World and the Mud Puddles

TWO FRONTS

The United States must fight on two fronts.

First, there is the military front. American soldiers, sailors and airmen are fighting and dying in the Pacific. They are living up to the highest traditions of this nation's military history. They must be given the finest battle equipment in the world, and they must be given it in lavish quantity. All the resources of this nation, be it man and material alike, must be used to that end.

Second, there is the home front. We have said, time and again, that we are fighting to defend and perpetuate freedom. That is true. But the defense of freedom at home, as on the war front, demands more than lip service. It demands straight thinking from all. It demands a list of the names of the men and women who are serving the country in the army. Getting a list of them after the first world war was a job and then one was not sure if it was right.

We will, of necessity, demand and accept a large measure of economic dictatorship during the war. Whether that dictatorship ends when the war ends, will depend upon the resolution and the understanding of the American people. The future of this country and this kind of government is in the balance. The people will decide which way the scales are tipped.

BRAGGING ABOUT YOUR OWN POSSESSIONS

The hostess of good taste will allow her guests to appraise for themselves the value of her household articles of virtue or of her own personal jewels. She will let the encomiums come from them without any prompting from her. She will wait for them to remark that the portrait above the mantel must be a masterpiece before she explains that it is a Velasquez or a Rubens.

For a host or hostess to suggest praise of their belongings is not only in bad taste but becomes very boring to visitors of good taste. Once, in the course of my travels, I was taken to the swarth home of a couple who had suddenly grown rich through some such questionable enterprise as gambling or bootlegging. They took me on a personally conducted tour through all of the rooms from the chromium bar in the cellar to the garishly decorated children's playroom in the attic. The price of every item was mentioned: "That dining room set alone set us back three thousand dollars." Some piano, isn't it, the gold one—thirty-five hundred dollars!" And so on.

Answer: People who have regular days at home have that "ay engraved in the lower left-hand corner of their visiting cards. If you prefer, you may write the day on your cards. "Tuesdays" or "second Wednesdays" or whatever day you prefer. Having once given notice of your day at home, you must be ready to receive on that day.

Question: We have received an announcement of the marriage of my husband's business associate. What response should be made?—W. J. H.

Answer: No response at all is necessary; nor is the sending of a gift. You might call on him and his bride when they are settled in their new home. If the marriage was quiet, for which reason you were not invited, you might send him a wedding gift, should your friendship warrant.

Almighty God: We make our earnest prayer that thou wilt keep the United States in thy holy protection; that thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; and entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large; and finally that thou wilt most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility and pacific temper of mind which were the characteristics of the divine author of our blessed religion; and without a humble imitation of whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation. Grant our supplication, we beseech thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Influx Of Workers Causes Chaos In Capital
Population Has Doubled In Short Time
Congress Is Too Busy To Give It Attention

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Suppose, Dear Reader, that the town you live in were to have its population unexpectedly just about doubled in the course of a few months. It's growth which, if gradual and spread over a considerable number of years, your community no doubt would assimilate naturally. But I'm not speaking of a multiplication, almost as fast as you can say "Two times two," only running into a lot higher figures.

The burg wouldn't be able to build at a rate sufficient to put residential or business roofs over so rapidly increasing a swarm, or anywhere near it, would it? It couldn't even throw up frame shacks in short enough order, not to mention comfortable accommodations.

It doesn't take long to nail an ordinary woodshed together, but a woodshed three or four stories high and a city block in area is quite an ambitious undertaking. A matter of simply one of them wouldn't begin to fill the bill, either. They'd be needed in dozens and dozens of acres, and the job of keeping them in repair would call for a sizable army of carpenters. Furthermore, every little while one of them would catch fire, so that that department would be eternally on the jump watching over them.

Your town's police force would be swamped of course. Mumps and measles would break out too fast for your public health service to deal with them, and you'd be scared to death for fear of still worse epidemics, in such a state of confusion and congestion.

Naturally, your urban and suburban transportation systems would be hopelessly snowed under.

That's Washington

That's the fix that Washington, D. C. finds itself in today.

In one respect it's a meager problem than your town's would be in a similar situation. Your municipality's local authorities would be entitled to meet their own chaos to their own best ability. Washington Congress hasn't got any local government too busy with the national emergency to pay much attention to the poor capital's miseries.

A congressional committee has been discussing them, it's true. Some of the facts have been revealed, but what good does that do, with no measures adopted in the direction of relieving things?

The Washington Housing association's testified to instances of a dozen or more persons living in one room and of half-a-dozen-room houses, occupied by half a dozen families.

Health Officer Ruhland's warned of the danger of a wholesale outbreak of contagious diseases and with no hospital accommodations for the patients, if epidemics do start.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Week

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. MRS. Eleanor Roosevelt protrudes herself into so many public fields and has become so much of a public character "on her own" that her attitude, activities and utterances are legitimate subjects for comment. Certainly, her persistent and continuous efforts to influence legislation and affect policies make her a factor that cannot be ignored.

ASIDE from her civilian-defense operations and her routine lines, such as writing a daily column and making a Sunday broadcast, in the week ending last Wednesday, Mrs. Roosevelt managed to attract public attention on an unusual variety of matters of general concern. It involves a considerable strain to say that in any of them she has advanced the national interests. The truth is a very good case for the reverse can be made out—always conceding that her motives are of the best and that from her point of view she is nobly discharging her duty.

In the course of this week she interjected herself into three separate controversies, found herself criticized by at least three friendly columnists and inspired pointed suggestions from various sources that she resign altogether from the OCD. In addition, she used her own column to rebuke a writer who had reported that she had "lambasted" Mr. William Knudsen. This she denied, declaring that all she had done was merely present her own views on civilian morale. "I said all this," she wrote, "to Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Hillman in some-what forceful terms, but without criticism of them." Altogether, the story of Mrs. Roosevelt's week is (Continued On Page Seven)

Hints On Etiquette
If your boy friend is at camp and gets a furlough home, try to plan entertainment that will cost him little, if any, of his small pay. If you are a working girl, why not get tickets to a play, if you live in town, and let him think they were given to you? In this case the deception is pardonable.

Six Congressmen In U.S. Armed Forces Get Only Army Pay

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The six members of the house who have joined the armed forces, and others who may follow them into the service, will have to live on army pay.

That was the ruling of house officials who said that members on leaves of absence for the purpose of serving in the army are not entitled to their $10,000 a year congressional salary.

The office forces of these congressmen, however, will continue to be paid for at least six months, and perhaps indefinitely if the military member succeeds in getting re-elected next November.

The official ruling—which makes the difference of between $21 and $883.33 a month to the member serving as a private—was issued officially by the House Sergeant-at-Arms Kenneth Rooney who said:

"Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren has advised me that the question as to whether members of the House of Representatives who enter the military or naval service of the United States shall receive their congressional salaries is one that is up to the house itself. In view of this, and under the precedence established in the First World War, I am without authority to pay the salary of any member who has entered or may in the future enter any branch of the service."

During the last war neither members who joined the service nor their office help were paid at all, but after the war congress, by a special bill, voted members and clerks full pay.

Since the war, however, the house has adopted another rule under which even if a member resigns or dies his office help is paid for six months thereafter.

"Members in the service definitely will not be paid but their office help will be paid for at least the six months under that rule," House Clerk South Trimble said. "What the status of the office help will be after that, in view of the fact that members going into the army have not resigned but are only on leaves of absence, is a question which will have to be settled at that time."

House members already in uniform are Reps. Osmer, (R) N. J.; Vreeland, (R) N. J.; Van Zandt, (R) Pa.; Worley, (D) Tex.; Magnuson, (D) Wash.; and Lyndon Johnson, (D) Tex.

Osmer is serving as a $21 a month private while the others were called up as reserve officers. Several other members, including Rept. Fish, (R) N. Y., and mass (R) Minn., have volunteered and are expected to enter active service as soon as the army is ready for them.

The Great Game Of Politics

an interesting one and not without importance, because she is a person of influence.

FIRST, there was her highly publicized refusal to cross the picket line in front of a New York theater. Accompanied by her radical young protegee, Joseph Lash, she got her ticket money back, and later declared that "fair or unfair," under no circumstances would she cross a picket line. As pointed out by Mr. Pegler and others, this is equivalent to saying that right or wrong she always supports a striking union. He belatedly letter published on Tuesday, to the union boss, Petrillo, in which she expressed the view that the issue should be settled by arbitration, does not change her right or wrong attitude.

EVIDENCE of this has been given before. Some months ago she sympathetically addressed a meeting of Brooklyn strikers, knowing nothing about the merits of the strike. This fresh evidence came at a particularly unfortunate time, when efforts are being made to outlaw strikes during the war, and the professional labor leaders are trying to exact as a price partial acceptance of the Communist principle of labor management of industry. It is inevitable that Mrs. Roosevelt's utterance and action in this picket business be taken as sympathetic with any labor demand. And, of course, it is not possible to disassociate Mrs. Roosevelt from her White House connection, which is what gives her words weight.

HARDLY had resentment over this incident subsided before she barged into another highly controversial field, raising the race issue in a speech before a group of Washington women. She was quoted in the Evening Star as saying that the nation cannot expect the colored people to feel that the United States is worth defending if they continue to be treated as they are being treated now. As one instance of discrimination, the Star said, she cited the segregation of colored women from white in Red Cross first-aid courses. "In an air raid," said Mrs. Roosevelt, "the colored women would be expected to administer first aid to colored and white alike." It was stated that her remarks were received "with murmurs of both approval and disapproval." While, of course, she did not intend to do so, it is hard to think of a better way to stir up bad feeling.

BUT, this expression against race discrimination by no means ended Mrs. Roosevelt's extension of herself. She covered still more territory when on Tuesday she took a stand against cutting down appropriations for NYA and WPA and indicated her distaste for the Byrd committee. She had announced in a previous column that she had had Mr. Aubrey Williams, head of the NYA and one of her special favorites, to lunch the day before. So, it was not difficult to guess the inspiration of her opposition to the Byrd recommendations. It is interesting to note that Mr. Morgenthau signed the Byrd committee's report, and that the President, himself, advocates a considerable reduction in both NYA and WPA. There, of course, will be determined resistance in Congress to any economy at all. Unquestionably, Mrs. Roosevelt's words lend encouragement to the resisting elements.

FINALLY, there was her success in having Mr. Lash put on the executive board of the youth division of the OGD. Mr. Lash is secretary of the International Student Service, and has been charged with being a Communist. This he again denied last Wednesday. Asked if his former activities had not been close to Communist lines, he enigmatically replied, "You might say there was a time when Communists were Democrats." As one of the grounds for recent criticism of Mrs. Roosevelt has been the tightness with which, despite opposition, she holds on to her OGD directorship, the Lash appointment can hardly increase confidence in that agency.

NOW, of course, by her attitude on these things, Mrs. Roosevelt may have endeared herself further to the labor leaders, to the Negro leaders, to the Administration spenders, to the young radicals, and to the many who believe the government owes them a living without work. Perhaps they do credit to her heart if not to her head and certainly they fit in with the picture of her as a great lover of humanity in the mass. But, they do other things, too. They create resentment and suspicion; they keep bitterness alive and promote disunity. And they are untimely, inept and unnecessary. In a single week Mrs. Roosevelt has succeeded in making it a little harder to move forward in at least three important directions. It is quite an achievement for one woman.

The real proof of his love is not in remembering anniversaries, but in helping with the dishes.

Lighting Expert Not For City "Blackouts"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20.—One of the nation's experts on lighting put a dimmer on the idea of blackouts for American cities today.

Samuel G. Hibben, director of lighting for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company at Bloomfield, N. J., and a technical adviser for the office of civilian defense, proposed "dim-outs" instead of blackouts because, he said:

"Blackouts paralyze defense production. They don't fool enemy pilots. They create hazards worse than bombs."

He said: "I would take a well lighted, well defended city in place of a black-out. Darkness creates hazards."

Your Federal Income Tax

NO. 14

PERSONAL EXEMPTIONS AND CREDIT FOR DEPENDENTS

Domestic relations enter into the making of an income tax return. This shows itself in the matter of personal exemptions. Too many taxpayers do not understand who is legally the head of a family, or what is a dependent. As a consequence, they overpay the government by not claiming their proper exemptions and credits. Of course, the audit of their returns discloses most of these errors, but not all of them, that are due to negligence or lack of understanding of the income-tax law and regulations.

Care is taken in drawing the instructions for filling out the forms to make them simple and easily understood. The taxpayer should study these instructions before making out his or her return.

The head of a family, as defined by the income-tax regulations, is an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected to him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation. As such, he or she is entitled to a personal exemption of $1,500.

A credit of $400 is allowed for each dependent. A dependent is one under 18 years of age, or one who is physically or mentally defective and incapable of self-support. He need not live with nor be related to the taxpayer.

If husband and wife contribute to the support of a dependent, the $400 credit may be taken by the one contributing the chief support, and it may not be divided between them. Likewise, if two members of a family contribute to the support of a dependent, the one who contributes more than one-half of the support may claim the credit.

Both the personal exemption and the credit for dependents must be prorated when the status of the taxpayer changed during the year, except where the taxpayer is eligible and elects to determine his tax at the optional rates with the use of the simplified Form 1040A.

If a taxpayer occupies the status of the head of a family solely by reason of the existence of one or more dependents for whom he would otherwise be entitled to the credit of $400, the credit of $400 in respect of one of such dependents is not allowable. For example, a widower who occupies the status of a head of a family solely by reason of the fact that he is maintaining a home for two dependent children under 18 years of age is entitled to the credit of $400 allowed for one such dependent, and the credit for the other dependent is not allowable.

The World and the Mud Puddles

stake in this war. Upon the maintenance of free enterprise all the other freedoms—freedom of press, freedom of speech, freedom of religion—hinge and depend. Anything which weakens or emasculates free enterprise is the enemy of the nation. We cannot have an over-expanding bureaucracy and have efficiency. We cannot allow non-defense spending to go on unchecked and expect to avoid economic collapse. We cannot punish industry and expect it to be able to do its utmost.

There is nothing dramatic about these statements. They are simply homely truths. The winning of this war—and the winning of the peace that follows—will depend on how well the American people understand them.

There has never been such unity as this country has at present. Every American stands solidly behind the President in his pledge to wage war until international gangsterism is destroyed. The spirit of the nation is one of grim, uncompromising determination. But let all remember that the home front is as vital to war and to the perpetuation of our way of life as the battlefield. There will be subversive influences on both fronts. Only an awakened, aware people can prevent their depredations.

We fight for freedom, then. And we must fight for it all the way—fight for it here in America, no less than in the broad reaches of the oceans and the lands beyond.

Daniel Mayer, internationally known concert manager, first brought the pianist, Paderewski to the United States in 1891-2. Mayer died in London at the age of 72.

greater than bombs, London during 1941 had over 10,000 casualties, killed or injured, as the result of blackout accidents.

"The government wants production at all costs. It doesn't want us to waste too much money and valuable materials on protective measures—they do not win the war."

A "dim-out"—or partial blackout—would blot out strategic landmarks but sufficient street and traffic lighting for essential activities would be maintained, he explained.

Hibben, here to speak at a defense meeting of the Illuminating Engineering society tonight, said he "wouldn't spend one cent for blackout purposes" if he were in Kansas City, Pittsburgh, he added, should have "plans ready."

capital's "local government" (which is something it hasn't got, as above remarked) can't possibly carry the load that's been thrust upon it. It's collapsing already.

President Roosevelt, to be sure, has ordered a goodly number of our federal agencies scattered from Washington to other cities throughout the country, but the order's being fought like fury by congressmen, who insist that the scattering will reduce their efficiency. Besides, new emergency agencies are being concentrated in the District faster than the scatterers are being scattered.

Situation Dangerous

It isn't alone that the jam's uncomfortable.

It's referred to by competent critics as dangerous at a key point like the capital city—as calculated to hamper our wartime effort. Indeed, I've heard the statement made that it's as bad as an aviation bombing by the enemy would be—that we're relieving them of the bother of bombing us by bombing ourselves right here in the District, by confusing ourselves worse than bombers could do it.

Right in the midst of things the United Conference of Mayors (mayors from all over the country, with Mayor Harold H. LaGuardia of New York and civilian defense chief, as head of their organization) held a get-together in Washington, and, believe me, those mayors were scandalized by the difficulties they experienced in locating the various higher-ups they wanted to see during their stay here.

Unofficial visitors in the city on government business, learned a good bit ago that it was an awful undertaking to find out who was who among the crush of unclassified functionaries.

Mayors, though, supposed they'd be privileged characters. They weren't long in discovering that they're no better than anybody. And WERE they sore about it!

Pitiful Sights Seen In Malaya

Chinese And Other Asiatics
Evasuating Before On-coming Japanese

USE ANY METHOD
POSSIBLE TO FLEE

By HENRY W. KEYS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

KAMPONG, Malaya, Jan. 18. (10:30 P. M. Malayan Time, Delayed)—At the dusty crossroads of this small Malayan village I stood today and watched all around me a pitiful sight—the painstaking, patient evacuation of Chinese and other Asiatics before the oncoming Japanese.

Simultaneously the jungle tracks from the depths of the green hell of the interior were filled with other stoically silent evacuees, leaving their solitudes loaded with all their possessions.

They were heading towards Kampong where they would join the Kampong villagers streaming southwards ahead of the evening rays of the Japs.

The bewildered Asiatics, their backs, wheelbarrows and bicycles piled to overflowing with all sorts of useful and useless household possessions, were trying their best to leave the earth "scorched" behind them.

Methodically, sorrowfully they destroyed tiny foot bridges crossing ditches which traverse the roads.

Anything to make it harder for the invaders.

I noticed that many carefully locked the doors of their homes as they left and it was probably the first time many of these doors ever were bolted.

Their gestures, so pathetically useless, made it patent that these simple souls know nothing of modern total war.

But they needed the positive warnings that came to them via the jungle grapevine. And while they had no idea how to go about it, they realized they must take precautions—then flee.

Every conceivable vehicle available was used for the evacuation. Those possessing carts, wheelbarrows or bicycles were lucky. Others used small barges which whole families hauled and pushed through jungle matted canals and ditches. They, too, were lucky. They were able to take with them all their belongings and all their relatives and friends.

The poorest had no means of travel save their legs and no means to move their possessions except their strong coolie backs.

But the human backs could not carry those too old or too ill to walk. These unfortunates, stoically and without fear, have been left behind. Patiently they await the Japanese, who say they are fighting only the white man in Asia.

Army Enlistment Regulation Changed

Sergeant Owen E. Tighe, of the United States Army recruiting office, today announced that army regulations have been changed so that former enlisted men who have not reached their 45th birthday and who failed to re-enlist three months thereafter, now have an opportunity to enlist.

Men who have reached their 45th birthday and who have not re-enlisted within three months must not be enlisted without authority of the War Department. In such cases, applicants must show that the re-enlistment will be for the interest of the service.

Applicants for original enlistment must still be between 18 and 35 years of age, Sergeant Tighe announced.

Auto Tax Toll 110 Millions In State Last Year

Gasoline Taxes Produce Over Sixty-Seven Millions Petroleum Leader States

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—Nearly $110,000,000 in automotive taxes was paid to the state by Pennsylvania motor vehicle owners during 1941. Secretary W. P. Taylor of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania announces that an estimated $67,486,000 was derived from gasoline taxes while $42,401,000 came from registration and other fees.

Pennsylvania motorists are now paying more in automotive taxes than the total derived from all tax sources of less than two decades ago. The state had a total tax revenue of $93,165,110 in 1923 as compared to the $109,887,000 paid in 1941 for vehicular taxes alone.

With more than half of all the families of the state now owning automobiles, the registration of these vehicles and of trucks has increased by 9 per cent in 1941, with an all-time high of motor vehicles in use on the state's highways at the end of the year.

NYA Centers Are Producing Workers

Ten Centers In State, Including New Castle, Train 300 Monthly

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—Pennsylvania's ten National Youth Administration defense work centers today are preparing more than 300 youth each month for jobs in the state's defense industries. The centers are located in the following places: New Castle, and South Park, near Pittsburgh.

N. Y. A. Administrator Isaac C. Sutton announces that young men are being taught the fundamentals of machine, welding, electric, radio, aviation mechanics, sheet metal and other shop work in line with the program outlined by the office of production management.

Supervised by the State Department of Public Instruction, the youths receive actual shop production work along with related training. The period required for the training of a young man for defense employment varies from one to three months according to the type of work in which he is engaged.

The articles produced by the students during their period of training, are given actual use by the army, navy and public agencies.

There are few bowlegged people today.

This is due to the education and common sense of parents.

There is no excuse for individuals to be bowlegged.

Bowlegs are frequently caused by rickets.

Or, by too early walking, especially in an overweight child.

A child should not stand or walk until his bones are strong.

If his bones are weak or he has rickets he should be treated.

This is a simple matter in babyhood or early childhood.

Proper diet and other regulations may be recommended.

Cod liver oil, fruit juices and fresh vegetables help.

Common sense health measures are making bowlegs scarce.

Twelve Persons Known Dead In Fire At Lynn, Mass.

Apartment House Burns

Thirty Persons Are In Hospitals Suffering As Result Of Burns

ORIGIN OF FIRE NOT DETERMINED

(International News Service)
LYNN, Mass., Jan. 20.—Twelve persons were known dead and one other missing and believed to have perished today in a general alarm fire that swept Melvin Hall, a structure housing 62 apartments, in downtown Lynn.

Thirty persons, many badly burned, were taken to Lynn hospital. Scores of other residents were rescued by firemen as they clung to window ledges.

One of the victims, Edward Laflam, 83, met death when only a few feet from safety. The aged man tied bedsheet together and began descending hand over hand from his fifth floor window. He was killed instantly when one of the sheets ripped, hurling him against a lamp post in the street below.

Origin Is Mystery

Origin of the blaze was a mystery. It started in an unknown manner in the basement, then roared upward in two sheets of flame, one traveling up the elevator well and the other up the stairways.

Within a few moments the building was an inferno and the 102 residents—men, women and children—were making a mad dash to escape.

Fire Chief John Adams of Marblehead narrowly escaped death when the roof of the brick structure tumbled inward with a shower of sparks and plunged three floors.

Five comparables from Lynn and five nearby communities fought the blaze. When the flames had been beaten down, only the four skeleton walls were still standing.

Penn State Defense Course Results Seen

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 20.—The effect of war time defense industry activity on the employment of high school graduates was indicated here today in a report issued by Dr. Joseph W. Bird, in charge of placement for the extension services of the Pennsylvania State college.

Last summer, Penn State conducted a federally-sponsored defense training course throughout the state for recent graduates of Pennsylvania high schools. Today, according to Dr. Bird, 1164 of the 1945 who completed the summer have found employment.

Most of the youths, few of whom are more than 21 years of age, are working in plants turning out war materials. Only 11 per cent of these who are 18 years of age or over are still unemployed. A large majority of the remainder are in schools and colleges, or in the armed forces.

The training program, offered under the sponsorship of the U. S. Office of Education, was a six weeks course in introductory engineering subjects and was the third defense training program in which Penn State has participated. A fourth, now in progress in 109 towns and cities throughout the state, has 18,000 men and women enrolled.

The fact that 15 per cent of those employed are working for aircraft corporations, indicates the type of job for which they were trained. The Glenn L. Martin company hired 122 of whom 82 have jobs as inspectors. Among the other companies who hired a large number of the young men are: Western Electric, Carnegie-Illinois Steel, Bendix Aviation, National Tube, General Electric, Curtiss-Wright and Bethlehem Steel.

Those who completed the course were eligible for certification for civil service posts and 76 are now working for the federal government, the report shows.

"A majority of these young men might have found work without this special training," Dr. Bird said. "The figures are not submitted as proof of the courses insure a student employment. But we feel that many have been able to qualify for more responsible posts. Our records show that students are now employed as inspectors, draftsmen, electricians, testers, machinists, laboratory technicians and in many other capacities requiring some degree of technical training."

Complete personnel records are kept for all students completing Penn State defense training work. Of those who finished the summer program, less than 3 per cent failed to report on their job status.

Relate Churchill Spent Nearly Week In Florida

(EDITOR'S NOTE: During his recent historic visit to the U. S., Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England spent nearly a week in Florida. Following is an account of his visit here, told for the first time.)

By FRANK NEILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN FLORIDA, Jan. 20.—This is one of those now-it-can-be-told yarns. Only the circumstances, you can't tell very much about it. Censorship makes war hell, even for reporters.

No one in the vicinity yet is certain just how England's No. 1 man arrived at this picturesque village, guarded.

Residents simply awoke one morning—to find three warships idling off shore from the rambling, ivy-covered mansion that was converted into a retreat for the distinguished Britisher.

You would be amazed to know who owns the house in which Churchill lived during his stay here.

House Faces Water

Build smack upon the ocean's edge, where white-crested breakers lap at a smooth sand beach, the ancient house faces the water. Dense undergrowth lies for 150 yards behind the dwelling. A highway bounds this semi-tropical jungle terrain and a canal runs along the highroadside.

The jungle served admirably to conceal an "indefinite" number of FBI agents.

Curious natives, after word was out that Churchill was occupying the residence, made futile attempts to get a close-up of the unannounced visitor.

"But we didn't stand a chance," related the proprietor of a filling station. "You could walk up the long driveway for about 100 yards before an FBI man would hop out and challenge you. And you couldn't get any farther."

Tough To Approach

Other residents told of trying to approach the house from along the beach.

"That was even tougher," said a rotund middle-aged gentleman. "Those G-men were thick'n flies!"

However, the main gate leading from the highway to the house was kept open at all times, probably to avoid suspicion of who or what was beyond.

Overhead, airplanes hovered across the immediate area. Usually there was only one plane, but patrols kept coming and going throughout the visit. Ships, too, eased in—and left just as mysteriously.

The Duke of Windsor, during the week, spent 18 hours as a special guest of the special guard, if you are to believe residents. No one round knew when he was present.

Twice the prime minister went fishing while at the retreat. One report was that Churchill had a good catch and ate the fish one night for dinner.

The venerable proprietor of the town's grocery store was most pleased about the whole affair.

"They bought $25 worth of groceries the first day," he said, beaming. "Paid cash, for 'em, too. And throughout the stay they bought all kinds of stuff. I never did such a business."

Sentence Youths In Auto Thefts

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20.—Three Erie youths were sentenced to serve 18 months in a federal reformatory and a fourth was placed on probation for five years after they pleaded guilty in federal court Monday to transporting stolen vehicles across the Pennsylvania state line.

Francis Fortune, alias Frank Fortune, and High Gildy, alias Jack Mosher, were sentenced to serve 18 months each at the U. S. reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, for transporting a stolen car from Erie to New York state.

The machine, stolen last November, was owned by William Hartleb, 439 E. 31st street, Erie.

Federal Judge R. M. Gibson also sentenced Russell Pond, 17, to serve 18 months at Chillicothe and placed Joseph Kunes, 16, under probation until he reaches his majority. The pair admitted stealing a car owned by Michael Sontheimer, also of Erie, and driving to West Virginia.

Report Stickers Stolen From Autos

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Jan. 20.—Auto-use stickers were placed on sale at the local post office last Wednesday and two have been reported as stolen to Officer J. R. McCurdy. In both instances, the stickers were attached loosely to the windshield.

Police officials suggest that motorists use mucilage to affix the stickers firmly, so that they would be destroyed if illegal attempts were made to remove them.

Surprising as it may seem, the five leading American sports in the order of their attendance are: basketball, softball, baseball, football and horse racing. Basketball attracts twice as many spectators as does football, and baseball has fallen behind softball in popularity.

Over 700 Books Already Donated In Victory Drive

Campaign To Provide Books For Armed Forces Makes Good Progress Here

The nationwide Victory Book Campaign is off to a good start here. Sent into the public library by donors during the past week—which was the first week of the campaign—was a total of 701 books.

Work of going over and sorting these has already begun under the supervision of Miss Alice Sterling, director of the VBC for Lawrence county. The Lawrence county quota is 5300 of the 10,000,000 books needed.

Each of these books—destined for army camps, marine libraries or ship libraries—must be classified as class A fiction, class B fiction, class A non-fiction, class B non-fiction or technical by the staff here before they can be sent to a camp or U. S. O. center to supply reading material for service men.

So far nearly all the books received at the library are timely books in excellent condition.

The few (not more than half a dozen to date) that are in need of repair will be repaired at the library before being forwarded.

Bad Coughs Yield Quickly To This Home Mixture

Surprisingly Quick Relief. No Cooking. Saves Money.

Here's a medicine for coughs due to colds that you mix in your own kitchen. It's so easy to prepare that a child could do it, but it's so effective that, once tried, you'll never again be without it in your home.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—no trouble at all.

Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, put it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint—a family supply—of very wonderful cough syrup. It's thrifty, too—about four times as much for your money. And children take it willingly, because it tastes so good.

This home mixture takes right hold of a cough in a way that's surprising. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, and lets you rest at night.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients in concentrated form, a most reliable agent for soothing throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

New Castle Colony Busy In Southland News Man Reports

By JAMES P. CALDWELL
(News Correspondent)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 17.—Tourists coming to Florida this season don't have to worry about places to hang their hats. Hotels, apartments and rooming houses have ample accommodations. The crowd is not so great as last year, but really larger than one might expect, considering war conditions.

St. Petersburg has fared better than other cities for the reason that older people come here. Miami has probably been hardest hit. Younger bloods go there to fry out their surplus fat. Folks who come here have left most of their fat in the pan. Still, there are enough vitamins left in some of them to encourage romance on the green benches.

Has Novel Hobby
There is a fellow here whose hobby is mating up widows and widowers, with an occasional break for a pretty spinster and a grouchy old bachelor. He says it's easier blending the former, as the widows have the better technique. The only trouble is that there are at least six of them for every man.

Two features of war conditions seem to be responsible for slowing up tourists. One is the draft, taking the younger men, and making it necessary for oldersters to carry on. The other is the tire situation. This hits those who usually come down on short vacations. They hesitate to put several thousand miles on their tires, merely to fill up on orange juice. This hits Floridians, who look forward to the tourist season with the same earnestness as a potter bug years for the summer crop.

The weather here has been ideal. Sunshine practically all the time. During the recent blizzard up north we were cooled off by a wind from that direction, and for two days the mercury stood around 32 in the early morning, running up to between 50 and 60 later in the day. However, no damage was done to flowers, fruit or gardens. As this is being written the temperature is 65.

Building Motor Boat

Drove out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Richards yesterday, Mr. Richards was formerly superintendent of the New Castle Water Company. I found him busily engaged in building a motor boat. His workshop is equipped with all kinds of modern power driven machines for both wood and iron, and he is an expert in their use. The boat upon which he has been working for several weeks is about completed. He has done everything except building the motor. It is a marvel of fine workmanship, and if purchased from a ship building company would cost around $1800. It is equipped with a gun mount, and can be converted into a cruiser for chasing Japs on short notice. So far we haven't seen any Japs, but we have had a blackout, and are carrying our side arms.

I think Fred Rantz, who with Mrs. Rantz visited the Richards home last year, told of Howard's scheme for cutting down his water bills. He has dug a well from which he gets water for his lawn, thus saving about $15 a month water bill. It takes plenty of water to tickle the grass on this sandy soil. It also takes a lot of fertilizer, but it sure makes the flowers and shrubbery grow. An example is an orange tree which Richards planted on his lawn on January 2nd, 1942. You can pick ripe oranges from it now. This may look like a tall story but if you don't believe it write Richards at his home 105, 25th Avenue, North-east, for an affidavit.

The Cat Came Back
If you happen to be among those incredulous persons who don't believe that cats have brains, hearken to this tale of a sagacious feline. The story was told to me by Mrs. Margaret Woodworth of Walpole, who came down here last year and anchored her trailer at Madiera Beach. She liked it so well that she didn't even go home to celebrate the 4th day of July. But her daughter, Jeannette, was more patriotic, and went back home to visit grandma Moore, also of Walpole.

But to get back to the cat story. Chapter No. 1 began when Mrs. Woodworth, while wandering in a far section of the trailer camp picked up what she assumed to be a stray cat. It was an emaciated looking specimen of the feline tribe, with a far-away look in its eyes and a voice as plaintive as a turtle dove with the sore throat.

Now the point to this story is that the cat was found some two blocks from Mrs. Woodworth's trailer. In the intermediate space there were other trailers and a lagoon about one hundred feet wide. Over this lagoon is an arched footbridge, rising to a height of some fifty feet above the water. Carried to the trailer the cat was given a full course dinner, following which it curled itself up on a camp stool and gently hummed itself to sleep. When it awakened about eventide, it appeared restless, so much so that it was finally let out of the trailer. Nothing more was seen of it until the next morning, when Mr. Woodworth heard a faint m-e-w-e at the door. Opening it, she was astonished to find the cat and five little kittens about a week old.

The mother, having found a good place to eat, had carried her kittens, one by one, over the high bridge and deposited them at the door of her benefactor. Mrs. Woodworth kept the whole family. The kittens have graduated into catdom, and are now as intelligent and refined a looking lot of pussies as one would wish to fondle or caress.

Scott McCaslin's Dream
Ever since Mr. and Mrs. Scott McCaslin came down from New Castle about two months ago, Mrs. McCaslin has had a taste of what it means to be a fisherman's widow. For Scott has gone fishing every day. Occasionally Mrs. McCaslin goes along to count the fish. This occurs on days when Scott has managed to secure some especially lucious bait, and can't keep up the count. He has found a secluded fishing spot out on Boga Ciega bay said to have been revealed to him in a dream, after he had partaken of a hearty dinner of boiled lobster and fried shrimp. Anyway he has managed to bring home a big string of fish every day since. A fortune teller here interpreted his dream.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester P. Reynolds of New Castle are among the arrivals this week. Mr. Reynolds is a well known business man of Washington street. He and Mrs. Reynolds came over from the east coast and immediately became acclimated by attending the Pinellas county fair at Largo. This was Chester's second visit to the fair. He loves to browse around among the onions and cabbages, the perfume from the former being so different from the smell of clothing, and the gentle cabbage heads, needing no attention at hat fitting.

Old Timers
Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Fike also landed here this week on the B. & O. They have been coming down here so long that Fike thinks he remembers the Gulf of Mexico as a fish pond. They usually drive down, but this year decided to preserve their car in good shape in case the government wants to borrow it.

Mrs. A. N. Young and son Paul, also came in this week. They are on a short tour. While here, Paul is doing some research work in the hope of finding a clay that will make china in case the war cuts off the supply. So far he has only routed out a few rattlesnakes, and discovered nothing better than sand. And speaking of pottery: We found home grown dishes in three hotels in as many different states on the way down. Shenango dishes impart a flavor to the food that tastes all the better when you're away from home. We complimented the proprietors of those hotels on their good judgment in choosing Shenango pottery, and promised to come back when the price list on the bill of fare had been amputated.

Among Those Present
Among the New Castle people who have visited St. Petersburg so far this season and registered at the Chamber of Commerce are the following:

Miss Mayme Artherholt, Mrs. Ella Noggle, Mrs. B. H. Craig, Mrs. Louella Brownlee, Mrs. Margaret A. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Allen, Mrs. Jennie Shaffer, Miss Jessie Chain, Mr. and Mrs. Scott McCaslin, George W. Swisher, David Lewis, Miss Arline Waid, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Preston, Mrs. Rebecca Chapman, Mrs. Mary Woods, Mrs. Frank Dewberry and children, Dale and Patty, Mrs. C. A. McCready, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Allen, Mrs. Annie Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Caldwell, Mrs. Nora Preston, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cunningham, Mrs. Ell Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Fike, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mornes and Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis.

P. S.: I forgot to tell you that Howard Richards has named his new motor boat "So Long." The name appears in gilt letters on the stern of the boat. It is reminiscent of his sojourn in New Castle when he used to write letters to the father of the Hints and Dints, dating them "Coaltown" and ending them "So Long, Joe Bulger."

Washington Pupils Spur Defense Drive

School Has Own Bonds-Stamp Sales Drive, And Net Is Mounting

George Washington junior-senior high school pupils have bought—in small day-by-day purchases—almost $1,000 in United States Defense Bonds and Stamps. And they keep on buying.

Announcement that the school is acting as a branch sales outlet was made by Principal Browne K. Thacker, who spoke glowingly of the "Patriotism our boys and girls are demonstrating."

"We started the sales December 31," Principal Thacker said, "and already we've disposed of $921.55 worth of bonds and stamps."

At Washington, believed to be the first school in the system to inaugurate the plan, each home room has an appointed bonds-stamps representative who makes contact with the school office, where supplies are kept. Teachers have joined students in the purchase drive.

Three times a week a Washington office representative goes to the post office to get supplies and turn in money collected. One day alone netted over $200 in sales.

"It certainly reflects parental interest in their sale," Thacker declared.

Firemen Rescue Woman From Well

Have Difficult Time In Rescue
Of Stanton Avenue Woman
Monday Afternoon

New Castle firemen and the Fire Department Rescue Squad were summoned to Stanton avenue, Monday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, to rescue Mrs. Mary Reiter, wife of Michael Reiter, from the bottom of a 24-foot well, into which she had fallen some time previously.

The well, a dug shaft, lined with tile about 30 inches in width, was only felled with a few feet of water and the mud at the bottom to a few feet below her chin.

Firemen lowered a man with a rope, but he was unable to bend over to get a rope around the woman, and a ladder was finally lowered to her and she was able to hang onto it and she and the ladder were pulled up.

At the New Castle hospital, where she was taken in an ambulance after being rescued, it was stated that she suffered no broken bones but was suffering from shock and exposure.

Just how long the woman had been in the well is not known, but it is believed to have been several hours. Her absence was discovered by her husband, on his return home from work, and after searching about the house, he found her at the bottom of the well.

Over 6,000 had been sold Monday afternoon.

Waiting lines formed in the post office lobby today and yesterday as buyers swarmed in to get their stamps before February 1, the date the $2.09 stamps must be bought if a car is to be operated during February.

The new tax will help raise funds for the war effort. A supply of 20,000 stamps was sent here.

Though Stalin is fighting our enemy, he wouldn't tolerate an organization of believers in Democracy. Why should we be dumber?

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—The Tennessee Valley Authority, huge government-operated electric producing utility, is drafting plans to build up a reserve of electricity for Pennsylvania's defense-vital industries, Public Utility Commissioner Richard J. Beamish said today.

"Leland Olds, chairman of the Federal Power Commission will confer this afternoon with the full membership of the P. U. C." Beamish said, "and explain that the T. V. A. is considering extending its power resources into Pennsylvania's heavy industrial areas that are vital to national defense."

The purpose of such a move is to throw a new bloc of electricity into Pennsylvania's heavy industrial areas that are vital to national defense.

The T. V. A. was established in 1933 to supply "cheap" power to private consumers as well as industries throughout the south. It develops hydro-electric power from the Tennessee river.

This Newspaper is Filled With DYNAMITE!

Dynamite is a useful substance. It blasts out roads and tunnels, clears stumps, defends us against encroaching enemies.

But misuse it at your own peril! It can blow you into kingdom-ome.

Your newspaper is useful, too. It brings you a daily record of what happens around you and an assortment of OPINIONS—to go with its usually accurate FACTS.

But PLEASE do not MISUSE it. From your newspaper you can learn how to divorce a wife, how to rob a bank.

You can learn the opinions of every Communist and every brutal Nazi who makes news. You are told how crooked politicians operate and how to wreck yourself in an automobile.

When you come to think of it, you realize that such news is brought you to forewarn and forewarn you—so robbers, crooks and dictators CAN'T harm you. And you will admit that such news is absolutely necessary for free men who want to guard their freedom.

Note well that your newspaper contains TWO KINDS of news.

1. FACT 2. OPINION

The facts, good or bad, you cannot dodge. You may change them, as you change public officials, laws, customs, habits every day. But don't deny them or hide from them. That is dynamite.

The opinions, right or wrong, are there because every man HAS opinions. And, in AMERICA, every man has a right to his opinions. But don't accept every opinion blindly. That is dynamite.

Usually you will find OPINIONS on BOTH SIDES. Weigh them, think about them. You MUST. You are a citizen and a voter. What you and a thousand or a million others DECIDE will decide the fate of this nation. There's PLENTY of dynamite if you decide WRONGLY.

And FACT and opinion aren't merely limited to the news and editorial columns. They are both found in the advertisements also. Just the same as you need to know what all candidates for office have to offer so you can choose between them, you need to know what all merchants and manufacturers have to offer so you can decide how to spend your income to the best advantage.

Dictators do not believe the people can be trusted with all the facts and all the opinions and a free right of choice.

And the dictators are RIGHT—if they want to go on being dictators! Any American newspaper worthy of the name is dynamite—dangerous dynamite—for a would-be dictator, mighty useful dynamite for a man who wants to protect his freedom.

In Germany, Italy, Russia, Japan, a government agency decides what the people shall read and hear. Not so in America. Do your part to preserve the American way of life.

Read, each Tuesday in this space, the messages about your liberty and how America's newspapers help you defend it. Your letters of comment will be appreciated by the editor and by this committee—Newspaper Publishers Committee, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

Cage Bandwagon Moves In High; Six Games Carded

Local Teams Involved In Half Dozen Skirmishes This Evening

NEW CASTLE-TITANS ON FOREIGN FLOORS

Lawrence county's basketball bandwagon shifts into high gear tonight.

The cage log calls for a half dozen skirmishes involving local aggregations.

In the hostile Section 20 league, Bessemer high, pacing the rank with four consecutive wins, hopes to stretch its skin at the expense of East Brook high, on Bessemer's floor.

After getting off to the proverbial flying start, the Brookers suddenly ran into three straight setbacks. Tonight, the East Brook quintet hopes to find its winning ways again. With Grubisa, Tassara and Kreschew playing sensational ball, the Bessemerites feel confident of garnering their fifth win.

The sectional highlight is booked for Wampum where Coach L. B. Hennon's charges face a strong Union edition in a clash that should be stuffed with action. Wampum high makes its debut on the recently completed Wampum high gymnasium.

Wampum On New Floor

Wampum will spring into the second place slot of spilling the Scotland Laners. A Union triumph will keep the Pateron-coached machine on the heels of Bessemer.

Mr. Jackson high, which has proved to be the league's hatchet team, invades Princeton hoping to annex 's third conquest against a pair of setbacks. The Jacks' two victories have been at the expense of two noteworthy outfits, East Brook and Union high. Princeton is victorious in league circles.

Shenango's battle with New Wilmington, scheduled for Community floor in New Wilmington, shapes up as another hammer and tong affair. The East New Castle flippers ran into their second defeat last Friday, Wampum administering the setback. New Wilmington piled up its second triumph by subduing East Brook. The rivals are stymied for fourth place honors with a 2 and 2 mark.

Castles-Titans Away

New Castle high invades Ambridge for a Section III tussle with Ambridge high. The Castles uncorked an abundance of brilliant basketball to upset Beaver Falls last Friday, 29-27. The Bridgers loom as one of the pre-season favorites to cop the bunting. A New Castle victory will elevate the locals near the penthouse berth.

Westminster college hopes to continue its victory stride by subjugating Slippery Rock State Teachers college, at Slippery Rock. The Titans, winners of seven victories out of eight games and currently leading the Pennsylvania collegiate championship race, whipped the Rockets earlier this season, 49-38.

HOUSE LEAGUE GAME

The Globetrotters upset the Engineering Works team in a House league game at the "Y" last night 32 to 12. Solomon, Stein, and Pazzone were outstanding. Wednesday night the A. Z. A. will play the Celtics at 7 o'clock.

LEASURE AND REALE TO BOX

Amateur Boxing Bouts To Be Held Tonight In Ellwood

Lester Leasure of this city and Harry Jackson of Pittsburgh, middleweights, will meet in one half of a double wind-up tonight in the Shelby auditorium, Ellwood City. In other half, Ray Miller of Meadville will wallow with Clint Brown of Grove City, at 126. In another battle Billy Reale of Castlewood will meet Nate Robinson at 170 pounds.

Billy Pozzy of Ellwood City will box Mike Modrak of Alliquippa at 138 and Chuck Fisher of Zelenople will oppose Eddie Chapman of Alliquippa at 122 pounds.

There will be a total of eight bouts.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Bob Pastor and Gus Lesnevich will box in New York January 30 and Sammy Argott will meet Bob Montgomery in the same ring a week later. Frankie Moran does not propose turning professional for some time. One of his hands, injured some time ago, is not yet ready for duty against the pros. Until it is ready he would be foolish to take any chances on injuring it permanently.

Although granted his unconditional release by the Red Sox, Lefty Grove is eager to return to the outfit. Three of the Red Sox southpaws are in service. They are Mickey Harris, Earl Johnson and Larry Powell. Speaking from his Lonsanong, Md., home, Lefty said his arm feels fine and although he is 42 years of age, explained: "A man's age is as young as he feels." Grove said he believes he could win 10 games this coming season.

Blackie Hedges, who comes here now and then to aid in recruiting for the Coast Guard, has been in service more than a score of years and served with Jack Sharkey, former heavyweight champion. That the show must go on was demonstrated last night in Pittsburgh. Prior to entering the ring, Yancey Henry received a telegram stating his brother had died in Alabama. He went through with his fight and beat Curtis Sheppard.

Nino Bongiovanni, 30, Los Altos, Cal., has his hands, face and legs burned in a magnesium plant fire in that city. Ralph Graham, assistant backfield coach at Indiana U., has been named athletic director of Wichita U., Kansas.

Billy Cox, promising shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates has been classified 1-A for the army and Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis and National League President Ford C. Frick has been requested by President William E. Benswanger of the Pirates to place Cox's name alongside the names of other baseball players who are in service. Cox wrote President Benswanger from Newport, Pa., today stating he had been placed in Class 1-A. The Pirates bought Cox from Harrisburg in 1941.

Yancey Henry of California out-punched Curtis Sheppard of Pittsburgh in a 10-round bout last night in Pittsburgh. It was a good fight. Other heavyweight results. Al Patterson won a TKO in the fourth round over Charlie Brant; Tony Ciria took a six round award from Charlie Rivers. Jim Franklin won a two round TKO over Al Madero in a middleweight bout and Chuck Taylor won in four rounds over Tony Dragone in a welterweight fight.

Charley Gehringer has signed a non-playing contract with the Tigers. W. H. Evans, Pittsburgh, defeated George Abrams, Oak Park, Ill., 1 up in the first round of the Miami-Biltmore golf tournament at Coral Gables, Frank Stranahan, Toledo, eliminated D. D. Carver, Miami, 8 and 7 and former Champion Richard Chapman defeated Robert Odon, Coral Gables, by a similar margin.

Junior Highs Playing Today

George Washington and Ben Franklin Junior high floor teams are battling this afternoon at the Washington High floor at 3:30 o'clock. Both teams were highly confident at game time.

KIWANIS BOWLERS COMPETE
New Castle Kiwanis club's bowling team will go to Pittsburgh tonight to compete in the annual bowling tournament of clubs of Kiwanis District 4. The South Hills club will be host to the participating teams.

PRACTICE GAMES REAL
Spring training at Texas university means plenty of actual football. In 1941 the big squad was divided into four complete teams for a round robin schedule of intra squad games.

Joe Devine, veteran Yankee scout who works in the Pacific Coast league, thinks Shortstop Frio Fernandez, bought by the Braves, is a great prospect.

Titans Face Rockets; Then Mid-Year Exams

Westminster Flippers Anticipate Sizzling Battle At Slippery Rock Tonight

TENTH FRAY BILLED FOR THURS. JAN. 29

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 20.—Before returning to the classrooms for annual mid-year examinations, Westminster college's high riding Titans encounter Slippery Rock State Teachers college, tonight at Slippery Rock.

Their spirits buoyed by Geneva's defeat of Duquesne which lifted them to the penthouse berth in the Pennsylvania collegiate title scramble, the Titans will perform with additional inspiration. A triumph will pad Westminster's standing since Dequesne, Temple, Pitt and some of the other bigwigs are idle.

See Hard Game

Noted as one of the toughest home clubs in the district, the Rockets are bound to give the Lawrence countians a hot battle. Last season Slippery Rock nearly ruined the Titans' title hopes. A movie-like finish, however, turned defeat into victory for the Westminsterites.

Earlier this season, the Rockets marched ahead by 10 points and forced Westminster to the limit before losing a 49-38 decision. Coach Grover Washabaugh beamed satisfaction following the Titans' impressive triumph over Youngtown college 54-41. "Well, we seem to be improving. If we continue, to polish our attack, should win a few more games this season," the coach remarked.

The same Westminster lineup that has been clicking beautifully will likely start the battle. This combination will find Lee Fox and "Buzz" Ridl stationed at forward; Stan Wasik at center and Dale Dumire and Joe Spak in the sentinel slots.

Fox's sensational performances in the past three games have highlighted Westminster's ride along the basketball highway. His shooting ability is of the "dead eye" variety. At the foul line, the Schenectady whiz flashes almost perfect form.

Following tonight's tussle, the Titans will forget actual combat and concentrate on the mid-year exams. Westminster's 10th foe will be Geneva College, Thursday, January 29 at Beaver Falls.

Grovers-Thiel Clash Tonight

GROVE CITY, Jan. 20.—Grove City's quintet, unbeaten in five starts went through a hard two-hour drill Monday in preparation for Thiel's Tomcats at Greenville, tonight, and Coach Jim Loveless stressed offense throughout the workout. The Crimson coach professed disappointment over the failure of his forwards to recover rebound, and this phase was stressed today.

Apparently recovered from their shooting slump, the Grover regulars worked on short, fast passing, hoping to outspeed the Thiel team, which is having a good season.

All regulars of the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast league are married men, and a majority have children.

Three Fast Games In Church League

Second U. P., St. Vitus And Third U. P. Win League Battles

Three fast games were played last night in the New Castle church basketball league at the "Y" floor. In the first game the Third U. P. team paced by Hanna, Caldwell and O'Neill defeated the First Presbyterian 48 to 24.

In the second game the Second U. P. team with Francis and Bob Pitzer doing the bulk of scoring upset the First Baptist quintet 45 to 14. In the third game the St. Vitus team bested the St. George Greek team 37 to 28 in the closest and hardest fought of the three games, with Cogey Othites and Coach Manny Othites stars in the Greek lineup and Bullano and Ciazza in the Saints lineup.

SAYS NILAND BEST
NEW YORK—Nat Holman of City College and Clair Bland of Long Island U. claim Capt. Joe Niland of Canisius college of Buffalo is the best college basketball player they have seen in the east this season.

PAFFRATH LEADS

PITTSBURGH—Larry Paffrath, forward, is the leading scorer on the University of Pittsburgh cage team this season. He is averaging 10 points per game.

Sports trail melody:-

A group of approximately 20 genuine local sports followers accomplished two noteworthy objects, Saturday night in Pitt stadium. Before the start of the Pitt-Penn State cage fray, a couple of spokesmen entered State's dressing room and handed "Herb" Baltimore a National Defense bond. Thus, the localities honored a deserving young man and at the same time hopped the bondwagon.

Baltimore, who learned to play the game on the local Y. M. C. A. was speechless. "How can I repay you fellows?" the 6 foot 4 center asked. Baltimore stepped on the hardwood and played the greatest game of his life, contributing considerably toward State's 34-30 triumph over Pitt. He arched eight points and played flawlessly on defense.

Since Joe Louis is willing to don the mitts for the benefit of the U. S. Army, why not a Louis-Lem Franklin title go? In ordinary times, promoters wouldn't even consider such a match, due to the fact that both performers are colored and thus poor drawing cards when paired together. With the Army lending its name, the show is bound to be a financial success. Franklin seems to be the logical contender now that all the other Joes have been rubbed out.

That basketball ranks among the most unpredictable pastimes was never more emphasized than during the past few days. Dequesne university tabbed as even greater than last season, burst like a bubble on a cactus patch. In losing to Geneva, the Ducks were part of the biggest upset of the early season.

Duquesne's second loss of the week was equaled by Rice's pair of setbacks, one of them at the hands of Texas A. & M. Adding further to the humiliation, Washington and Washington State saw their colors dunked in defeat paint. Could this uncertainty be the reason why some 90,000,000 fans flock to the various hardwoods to watch the collegiate in action?

Ghost Basketball Here Wednesday

Arena Floor Will Be Scene, Gersons-St. Vitus Will Play First Of Series

New Castle will have its first Ghost basketball game at the Arena on Wednesday evening. With the Gersons and St. Vitus ready and eager to play their first of a series in the game following the ghost game. The "Spooks" will play at 8 o'clock.

The Arena will undergo a complete "blackout." When they play Ghost basketball there cannot be any lights in the building whatsoever. A special illuminating material outlines the players. Ghost basketball is completely new to New Castle, but has received rave notices wherever it has been shown in the East. Manager Ed. Richardson of the Arena has put the price for this extraordinary attraction so low that nobody can afford to miss it. The Gersons and St. Vitus teams are eager for the battle that will follow the Ghost game. The lineups of both teams are dotted with well known local high school and college stars. There is a friendly rivalry between the two teams and they both want to win badly. Both teams have ended training for the tussle. It is bargain night at the Arena Wednesday, two fine games for the price of one.

FAIR OR FOUL By LAWTON CARVER INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—If Mr. Ed Barrow, the president of the New York Yankees, decides not to like baseball writers any more it serves them right. They spend all their time piling up trouble for him. Trouble? They make life an ordeal of tears and tribulations for the Yankee boss in his efforts to dicker with ball players, especially Joe DiMaggio.

Every once in a while I write a piece about Joe because his contract with the Yankees soon will be coming up for consideration and the more I write the more it looks as though the Yankees are going to have to pay him a salary that will look like the war debt with a couple of zeros on it. The baseball writers keep singling him out for more honors.

Fuel On Fire
They gave the great Italian the annual most valuable player award for his league a few weeks ago quite deservedly. His all-around excellence got him the honors over Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Uncle Sam's army who had turned in the first 400 average in years. Now they have handed him the player of the year award.

The latter was a whale of a man all last season, especially during that consecutive game batting streak that left all records behind and there is no telling how much he is going to want to play for the Yankees next season. The baseball writers keep adding fuel to his fire by singling him out as one of the greatest stars of the recent campaigns. The more they pile it on the more trouble Mr. Barrow is going to have getting anywhere in his contractual negotiations. Unless DiMaggio is a little different than you and I would be.

Second Time For Joe

Among other things, this is the second time DiMaggio has been singled out for this particular honor, and he is the only man to receive it twice.

Here are the previous players of the year award winners:
1931—Bill Terry.
1932—Lou Gehrig.
1933—Herb Pennock.
1934—Carl Hubbell.
1935—Dizzy Dean.
1936—Hank Greenberg.
1937—Tony Lazzeri.
1938—Joe DiMaggio.
1939—Jimmy Foxx.
1940—Bobby Walters.
1941—Bobby Feller.

A plaque commemorating DiMaggio's designation as the outstanding ball player of last year will be presented at the annual dinner of the New York baseball writers on Feb. 1. DiMaggio graciously will accept the award in his own behalf before a great horde of dignitaries and athletes and let the Yankees worry about it. They are going to pay him plenty this time. And plenty, pardner, ain't peanuts. He is a great ball player who persists in staying great. Babe Ruth was the second, then comes DiMaggio. He doesn't have to take a back seat for either of his predecessors either.

New Castle At Ambridge High

New Castle Ready For Third Section Three Game This Evening At Ambridge

RESERVES WILL PLAY PRELIMINARY

New Castle high basketball team will board a bus shortly after 5:30 o'clock this evening for Ambridge, Pa., where they will be called on to play their third Section Three game of the season. In the preliminary game at 7 o'clock, the reserves of both schools will tangle.

New Castle has won one and lost one in the sectional race so far, beating Beaver Falls and losing to Aliquippa. The red and black tusslers hope to upset the dope bucks and take the measure of the Ambridgeans tonight.

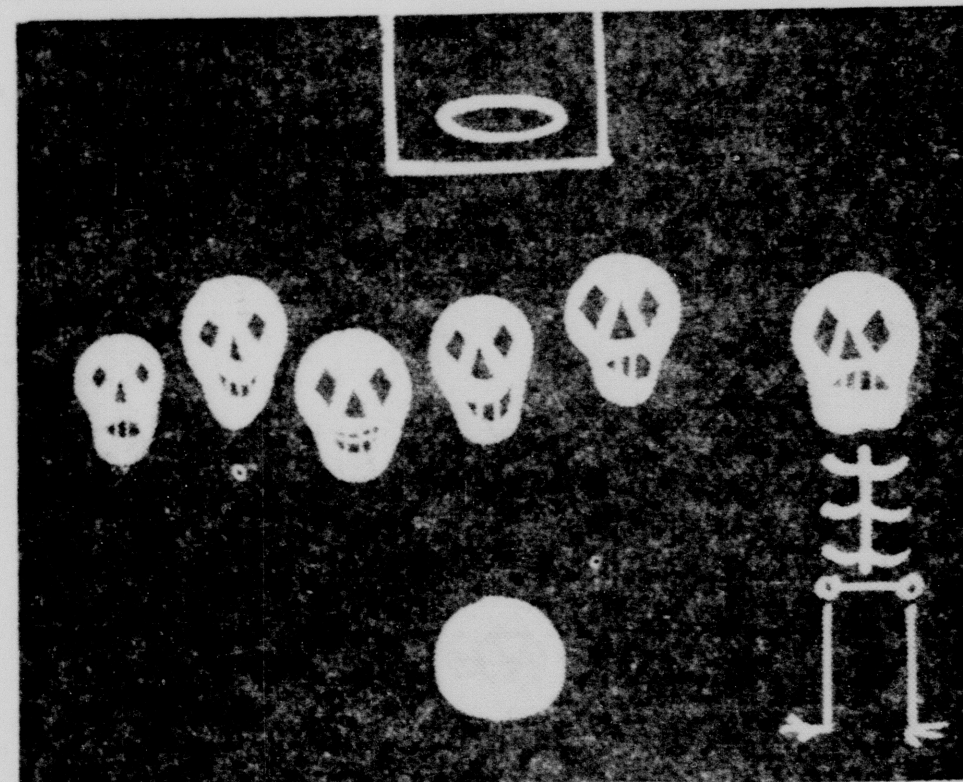

Ciazza As Starter

Owing to his fine showing in the Beaver Falls game young Joe Ciazza will probably be rewarded by being one of the two starting forwards, probably teaming up with Bobby Lee, as "Red" Ross who has played fine ball for New Castle is departing at the semester. Cooper will be at center, or it may be Zubkowsky, with Melchior and Parou holding down the guard posts.

New Castle high's next home game will be on Saturday night at the Washington high floor with New Brighton playing a league game here. The game was originally set for Friday, but that is commencement night.

TOPS 980 POINTS

The all-time Purdue season basketball scoring record was established by the 1933 quintet which accumulated 980 points in 20 games, an average of 49 points per game.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

Attention folks . . . and how are you this 20th day of January nineteen hundred and forty-two. Time sure flies doesn't it . . . this month is almost over but there is still one important date that you must keep in mind . . . the 26th, that's one week from this coming Thursday, Congressman Martin Dies will speak at the Cathedral and the topic for the evening will be "The Trojan Horse in America." . . . Congressman Dies and his great investigations should be of great concern to every good American citizen. . . . Tickets are on sale around town . . . reserved seats can be secured at Fleming Music Store.

We take great pleasure in presenting this little poem written by A. T. Kissinger . . . It was written especially for the citizens of New Castle and those who like to think of New Castle as their home:

I met a sweet and pretty maid,
Blue eyes and rosy cheeks;
I poured love into her ear,
For weeks and weeks and weeks.

And lo! I married this fair maid,
And now we seldom speak;
And each day seems to lengthen out,
To weeks and weeks and weeks.

Her mother came last Friday night,
The house seems cold and bleak;
For mother-in-law is going to stay,
For weeks and weeks and weeks.

Now I (poor cuss) must settle down,
And act most mighty meek;
And thank my stars it isn't years,
But weeks and weeks and weeks.

Your cooperation in helping the Red Cross will be greatly appreciated by your neighbors.

Rails Climb About Point In Moderately Active Dealings

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The stock market today duplicated its pattern of the preceding session, rails climbing as much as a point in moderately active dealings as the general market moved a shade higher.

Santa Fe advanced a point to a new 1941-42 high, Union Pacific was up more than a point and others were up fractionally. Trading, aside from the activity in rails, was sluggish.

Chemicals met support after their recent tumble. DuPont rose more than a point, while Dow advanced about half as much. Union Carbide was an exception, easing a half-point.

Fractional gains were chalked up by Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, U. S. Steel, General Motors, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse, International Harvester, Standard Oil of N. J., American Car & Foundry, Consolidated Edison, American Can and Eastman Kodak.

Among the stocks to slip behind minus signs were Sears Roebuck, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric, Goodrich, Texas Co., Coca-Cola and Consolidated Aircraft.

The event was a medium also, of emphasizing the "Forward in Service" movement, which is being faithfully and enthusiastically supported by the membership.

After serving of a delicious dinner prepared by the Women's Guild with the assistance of Howard P. Meehan, the rector, Rev. Robert M. C. Rev. and Mrs. Charles Burton who faithfully assisted in the work of Trinity church during the rectorship vacancy, were given a vote of deep gratitude. Rev. Burton is rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church of this city.

It was with deep regret, the congregation learned last evening, of the resignation of the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, Bishop of the Diocese of Erie, which becomes effective in 1942.

The congregation nominated and re-elected retiring vestrymen, Howard P. Meehan, George Hietich and Paul F. Butz, for another term of three years. L. J. Lewis presided as secretary to the meeting, and complete reports were given at this time by treasurer, William B. Howe, financial secretary, Miss Nancy Bechtel and missions treasurer, L. W. Strayer.

Launching the evening's program, was the announcement made by Rev. Griswold, for the ultimate support of the War Relief Fund, for each to aid in any way possible.

A short period of pep singing led by Dudley M. Arnold, Rev. Griswold presided. F. E. Sowersby, was followed by an informal social time, when those desiring to tarry awhile, entered into a varied program of diversions.

effect not more than six months after the conclusion of the war, although Congress has the right to nullify it in the meantime.

William S. Knudsen, as Director General of OPM, has estimated that advancement of the clocks will save 500,000 kilowatt hours of power annually.

The pen President Roosevelt used in signing the bill was sent to Robert Garland of Pittsburgh, who headed a national committee advocating daylight savings.

Garland was similarly active in behalf of daylight savings in the first world war and possesses the pen used by Woodrow Wilson in signing the 1917 measure.

Women's Auxiliary Army Corps Plan

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Testifying in support of a bill to create a women's auxiliary army corps a representative of the army general staff today told congress that "there are many duties within the military establishment that can be performed better by women than by men."

Appearing before the house military affairs committee, Lieut. Col. Ira Swift declared, however, that the war department does not propose to create an "amazon contingent" to supplement combat forces.

Swift said that there are thousands of women ready to enlist in the auxiliary corps, and "this bill provides the means of using these women to good advantage under military control."

Estimate 100,000 At Farm Show

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—The nation must "get rid of everything that savors of politics" and unite in the drive for maximum war production, Gov. Arthur H. James warned state farm show visitors.

Addressing part of the opening day throng of an estimated 100,000 rural Pennsylvanians here for the 26th annual Exposition, the Governor asserted last night that farmers must multiply their output to take care of war needs.

Farm subsidy programs and other experiments designed to curtail production must be scrapped, he said, since the need is in the other direction. Farmers were told they must plant more acres and raise more pigs.

Stenographer Test At School Tonight

Civil Service Rules Out As Field Men Comb Area For Capital Workers

Civil Service red tape will be slashed here tonight as its field men conduct a free-and-open examination for capable stenographers for defense executives at Washington.

More than 100—maybe more—will take the exam in Senior high school at 7, and if they successfully qualify they might be on their way to the capital tomorrow.

Employment heads here stressed that all applicants must know short hand and pass an 80-word-a-minute test. That speed, however, has been reduced from 96 just to get enough stenographers quickly. Typing will be necessary, too.

Any stenographer interested may take the test, provided he or she is willing to go to Washington within a week.

Plan Conference Of Democrats

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—Democratic state leaders today awaited a call for a conference in Harrisburg within a fortnight to determine sentiment for candidates for governor and other statewide offices to be chosen at the May 19 primary.

Plans to bring the leaders together were being worked out by State Chairman Meredith Meyers, who announced that conferees will be asked to name a committee of five to look over the field and report back. All of the 67 county chairmen would be given an opportunity to express their preferences.

The conference is independent of the "harmony" discussions begun last week in Washington at the suggestion of U. S. Sen. Joseph P. Guffey and which will be resumed in Harrisburg, probably in 10 days.

Appoint Successor To Von Reichenau

(International News Service)

BERNE, Jan. 20.—General Field Marshal Fedor von Bock, who formerly commanded German forces on the southern Russian front, has been named successor to the late Field Marshal Walther von Reichenau, the Basler National Zeitung reported today.

Von Reichenau, according to official Nazi announcements, died of an apoplectic stroke.

News of Von Bock's appointment caused considerable surprise. He himself recently was relieved of his post because of a reported stomach illness. This occurred soon after Reichsfuehrer Hitler dismissed Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch as commander-in-chief of the German armies and took over personal command in a so-called "intuitive" move to countered Nazi setbacks in Russia.

Retail Gas Prices May Be Placed Under Control

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Price Administrator Leon Henderson warned today that retail gasoline prices will be placed under full control if they do not remain "substantially" at or below November 7, 1941, levels.

Henderson made his statement in an attempt to clarify an O. P. A. request that future transactions in petroleum and petroleum products shall be made at prices no higher than those of that date.

Priced charged at service stations, curbside pumps and other retail outlets were not formally included in the list of products covered in O. P. A. statements Nov. 7, 10 and 23, 1941, but Henderson added: "It must be understood, however, that these prices should remain substantially at or below Nov. 7 levels. If they do not, a formal ceiling order will be promulgated placing them under full control."
